Petitions and Counter-Petitions.

NEW YORK, August 19.—A petition was signed yesterday by a number of prominent stockholders in the Panama Railroad expressing confidence in the sufficiency of security offered by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for the loan of a half million dollars, and demonstrating that it is to the interest of the Panama Railroad Company to assist the P. M. S. S. Co., urging upon the Trustees the propriety and advantage of loaning means required by the Steamship Company upon a mortgage on the steamers Colorado and Arizona. Per contra a protest is in circulation to-day, for signatures of the Panama Railroad stockholders, announcing that in case of loss from such loans each director will be held personally responsible. The protest sets forth in detail the financial distress of the P. M. S. S. Co., and considers it morally certain that sooner or later the Company will go into bankruptcy.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Of Course.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—A number of letters have been received here from Quakers and other friends of the Indian peace policy throughout the country asking executive clemency in behalf of the Modoc Indians. Many of the letters raise the question that the trial of offenders was illegal under a decision of the Supreme Court in the Milligan case to the effect that in cases where civil courts are near at hand a military tribunal had no jurisdiction. Another question raised is that Gen. Canby was killed while acting as a Peace Commissioner and not as an officer of the army in war. These questions will come directly before the President for his action.

From one tribe alone 14,000 men have left the pepper plantations and gone to the assistance of the Sultan. The pepper trade is temporarily suspended by the war. Great fears were entertained by the Dutch regarding the success of their contemplated second attack. The Dutch have at Penang their base of operations and on the way 18,000 men reinforcements from Holland. It was designed to attack Atcheen about the middle of September.

The Sultan in response to an overture by the Dutch to make a treaty said that before he would do so every man in arms under him should perish. The Sultan of Atcheen expressed a desire to the American Consul for close relations with this country and said if the United States would give him protection he would grant an extension of commercial privileges in naval storehouses and the use of the best timber for ship building. The Sultan was informed that the better way to present his proposition was to send a special envoy to the United States Government.

After traveling several days and nights he succeeded in capturing the men and animals. A despatch from Lancaster, Ohio, states that the committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Auditor and Treasurer of Fairfield county reported to the Commissioner of that county a few days since that they had found a deficit of $142,000 of public money. The North German Gazette denounces as a disgusting invention the report in American papers of an interview with Prince Bismarck in which he is made to say that he would extirpate the idea of God and substitute that of the State. Advices from Lance a Loup, Labrador, report that wolves in immense numbers have appeared for the first time for many years among the settlements near the Straits of Belle Isle and entirely broken up one settlement. On the night of July 1st, they attacked a party killing and devouring three men and one woman. The same night they attacked the tent of Captain Charles Murray, an Englishman on a hunting tour, and were driven off by rapid firing on them, not however until they had torn the tent in several places.

A young Georgian, who has been in Philadelphia looking about, has fired the southern heart with hatred against the managers of the coming Centennial Exhibition by the stories he has told at home and has caused the Columbus Sun to warn the South to have nothing to do with the affair, "which insults its pride, race, and all the laws of hospitality." He reports how one of the chief attractions of the exhibition has already arrived there in the shape of a picture of "The Battle of Gettysburg," around which the Yankees flock in crowds to laugh and jeer at the rebels and offer all manner of spiteful and contemptuous remarks about the unfortunate supporters of "the lost cause."

A New Haven (Conn.) dispatch of August 8th says: "This morning during a shower, Mrs. Ann Mooney, at work in a shirt factory, went to a window in the fourth story of the building to close the sash. Near the window was a line of shafting in rapid motion. Mrs. Mooney wears very high back hair. It seemed to be higher than usual to-day. Her movement to shut the window was made in haste, and the shafting caught in the hair. The set screws in the shaft worked themselves into her scalp, tearing scalp and hair entirely off. The skin of both ears was entirely torn off. The whole thing was the work of but a moment, but it left her in a condition which months cannot repair. A woman was in the room at the time but she could render no assistance. Drs. Park and Smith were immediately called and trimmed, replaced and sewed on the scalp, the patient suffering excruciating pain, at times going off into a condition of unconsciousness. Mrs. Mooney has been many years attached to this factory and was known all over the city. Dr. Park expresses the opinion that she cannot recover."

FECUNDITY OF FISHES.—It is said that probably about 60,000,000 or 70,000,000 codfish are taken from the sea annually around the shores of Newfoundland. But even that quantity seems small when we consider the cod yields something like 4,500,000 eggs each season, and that even 8,000,000 have been found in the roe of a single cod. Other fish than the cod are wonderfully productive. [illegible] It has been calculated that in three years a single pair of herrings would produce 154,000,000. Buffon said that if a pair of herrings were left to breed and multiply undisturbed for a period of twenty years they would yield a fish bulk equal to the globe on which we live. The cod far surpasses the herring in fecundity. Were it not that vast numbers of the eggs are destroyed, fish would so multiply as to fill the waters completely.—Scientific [illegible].

SIMULTANEOUS DEATH OF TWO SISTERS.—The family of Mr. John A. McDowell, of Wilmington, Del., were sadly afflicted on Wednesday [illegible], two of his daughters dying at nearly the same time. HELLENIC ANTIQUITIES

[illegible]

(From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, August [illegible].)

The following is an extract from a private letter written by Mrs. [illegible], wife of the American Minister to Greece, to her daughter residing in this city. It conveys the first intelligence which has reached us of the complete and brilliant success attending Mr. Schliemann's [illegible] explorations on the site of ancient Troy. The discoveries he announces are among the most interesting and remarkable contributions of this century to archaeological lore, and will be hailed with enthusiasm all over the world.

ATHENS (Greece), June 2[illegible], 187[illegible].—Mr. Schliemann returned from Troy yesterday. He has ended his excavations after this year of labor by a grand master-stroke. He has discovered the Palace of Priam and large treasure in gold and silver. He has carried away with him forty large [illegible] containing various articles, also fifteen baskets of gold treasures. We called upon him to-day at his residence for the purpose of examining his collection. I saw in his house gold goblets and vases which shine just like the gold of our use. I saw also some beautiful hand ornaments made of gold, handsome and well made, resembling those now worn by the modern Greeks. There is a golden goblet weighing nearly three pounds, also a quantity of small round earrings, such as are used and worn by children of our days.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERIES IN THE TROAD, DELOS AND THE FORTRESSES OF ATTICA.

(From the Journal of Commerce, August 5.)

Our mention yesterday of the extraordinary success of Prof. Schliemann's excavations and searches on what is believed (and now appears to have proved) to be the site of Homer's Troy, are corroborated by Greek papers just at hand. The Clio, a paper published at Athens in modern Greek, speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Schliemann and recognizes the great importance of his discoveries. The study of Hellenic antiquities has lately been taken up with great zeal in Greece. The French School of Arts at Athens has done much to stimulate these pursuits and the Greek government and people, though with little money to give, are well disposed to lend a helping hand to the archeologists. On the island of Delos many of the glories of the chief shrine of Apollo have been unearthed, and the inspired hands of Phidias and Praxiteles are supposed to be traced in many fragments of statuary that have been found in the sacred isle and elsewhere within the past few years. The Clio dwells particularly upon recent discoveries in Decelia, a frontier village of Attica famous in the history of the internecine wars of Greece and fortified by the Athenians at the instance of their greatest statesman as the key of Attica. The King of Greece has his summer residence exactly, he believes, in the ancient demos of Decelia. Since the successes recently noted have become known it is popularly believed that a sort of Capt. Kidd treasure underlies the soil of each historic spot in Hellenic territory, and that the earth will yield up the treasures of the conqueror and the conquered as the stubborn spade shall persevere.

The Clio says that above all the attention of archaeologists is directed to the many antiquities which Mr. Schliemann has brought from Troy. He identifies the spot where he has wrought by many close correspondences with the topographical descriptions of the Iliad and is confident that he has at last found the sombre and high towered portals of the temple wherein sat the Elders of Troy, in the day of the famous duel between Paris and Menelaus.

Encouraged by his success in the Troad, Mr. Schliemann now asks permission of the Grecian Government to excavate at Argos and Mycenæ, the capital of Agamemnon. He proposes to do this at his own expense. He asks that the Grecian Government allow him the privilege, with the understanding that all the treasures of antiquity discovered by him in the past and in the future shall belong to him during his life, and at his death they shall revert to the Greek Government. He proposes further to establish a museum for exhibition of Homeric antiquities at an expense of 200,000 francs to be paid by himself. The sentiment of the people is represented to be in favor of the proposition notwithstanding that other archaeologists have deceived them upon similar undertakings. The journals of Athens express the utmost public confidence in Mr. Schliemann.

FRAUD AND CORRUPTION IN THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE

Several days ago our dispatches furnished a report that a large brigade of New York Custom House officials had been dismissed from office for corrupt practices. Afterwards an attempt was made to deny the report. A New York dispatch of the 6th inst. gives some further information concerning the matter:

"The Custom House was wild to-day with rumors of the removal of about seventy Inspectors, who have been detected in the taking of bribes. It is a well known fact that nine-tenths of the Inspectors are paid by merchants for various favorable duties they perform, such as keeping their goods in the general order stores, hurrying samples through the Appraiser's Department and similar labors by which smuggling is often made easy. Hitherto satisfactory evidence of this base conduct could not be had. When Special Agent Jayne seized the books of Platt & Boyd and found accounts against a large number of Inspectors whose names and services were given in full, he sent the report to Washington and Assistant Secretary Sawyer came on to investigate the charges. He [illegible] communication from Washington on the subject, but it is well understood that he is here for the special purpose of fully investigating the matter.

[illegible] the names of Inspectors [illegible] sent the report on this subject to Washington. Many officials who are thought to be implicated have been moving heaven and earth to interview Sawyer and other prominent Republican politicians who are patrons of the accused. These persons will plead for them and Collector Arthur is very anxious. Sawyer denies all official knowledge of the matter. It is supposed that his design is to [illegible] and let those influential Inspectors who are most guilty escape. The Fifth Avenue Hotel lobbies are crowded with Custom-house officials who express their extreme anxiety quite freely. Boyd, of the firm of Platt & Boyd, admits that the petty cash book of the firm contains entries of sums paid to Inspectors of Customs together with the names of the Inspectors thus paid, but says that the money was paid to have their goods watched on the dock until removed by the firm and to save them from careless handling by the customs [illegible]. It appears that on Tuesday last Secretary [illegible] received [illegible] from New York [illegible] the manner in which employes [illegible] Appraiser's office and [illegible] Collectors [illegible] were not properly protected [illegible] [illegible]"

A KNOWING DOG.—Another New Hampshire [illegible] [illegible] had a conversation with a neighbor as to the best method of dispatching him, he being old and worthless, and it was agreed that he should be brought to the meadow the following day and that the neighbor should give him poison, but the dog could never be induced to go there again.

There are six large warehouses for the storing of grain in Junction City. Wheat is being brought in in large quantities, though but little is as yet offered for sale. The price of wheat at that place on Monday was 76 cents.

We are informed that about twenty white men and a number of Chinamen are working the gold diggings at Spanish Camp, Grant county, and making very fair wages. The mines of Eastern Oregon will last for years to come.

Mr. John Batchelder has obtained the skeleton of the whale which came ashore at Tillamook Bay not long since, and will bring it to Portland where he intends to put the bones together and have a whale of his own, or at least a skeleton one.

The Statesman says: "By the new law the office of Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Oregon is abolished. Consequently the Indian Department so far as Superintendent is concerned is non est. Superintendent Odeneal and Chief Clerk are at present settling up the business of the Department and expect to have it completed by the last of the present week."

From parties just in from Tillamook, the Statesman learns that Capt. Corno, owner of the schooner Ida Bond, which vessel was foundered near Tillamook last winter, has been at work trying to get his craft on the sea again. He had her caulked, righted and all ready to sail at the time of the high tide, but it did not quite come up to the desired spot, and the Ida Bond has to wait the coming of the next high tide ere she can get afloat.

GENERAL NOTES.

The New York Evangelist thinks that "the time is not likely to come soon when the rich will lack churches. The great trouble appears to be with the other extreme of society."

The sword of Tamerlane and that of Yakoob Haven, of bloody memory, are on exhibition at the Vienna Exposition. The former dates from the middle of the fourteenth century.

After the reading of the "Declaration," at Mound City, Illinois, on the Fourth, a man rose and moved that it be published, as it was one of the best speeches he had ever "heern" in his life.

Lucca has been about this little country and thinks "there is not much to see," but then she honestly confesses there is something to get to the tune, in her own case, of $44,000 in two months.

The Boston Herald, commenting upon Gen. Butler's quietness upon a recent occasion, reminds him that audacity is his best hold and that he cannot succeed in enacting the part of an oyster, adding the exhortation, "Awake, my Benjamin, and tune thy lyre anew." This is a trifle obscure. Is his organ a lyre?

The man Pickett, who is to be hanged some time this month, for killing an Indian woman in Idaho, has been called the first man ever condemned for killing an Indian, but the Missouri Republican says that a man named Hendson was hung in Indiana in 1824, for killing a Seneca Indian.

A Gastein dispatch says that the Emperor of Germany gave audience, on the 14th instant, to Dr. Philip Schaff, bearer of congratulations from the New York General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In his remarks in reply, the Emperor dwelt on the necessity of Christians working together in order to combat infidelity and superstition.

The St. Louis Democrat, alluding to General Butler's defence of the salary-grab, says: "We do not know what they think of Butler in the virtuous state of Massachusetts, but out here if we wanted to make anything appear exceedingly bad and improper, we should immediately ask Benjamin to indorse and advocate it. We hope he is not in favor of the Lord's prayer."

Correspondence is progressing between the Secretary of State and British Minister, which promises to lead to the release of the Manitoba prisoners. The English authorities, however, appear to be greatly embarrassed by the rash conduct of their local officers and are evidently awaiting for the subsidence of the feeling which has been excited on the border before finally deciding as to their course.

The largest wrought iron bridge in the United States has just been completed across Wisconsin river, for the Wisconsin Central Railroad Company. Its length is 1,525 feet, its extreme height 107 feet, with an average of 90 feet the entire distance. The bridge at the base is 30 feet wide and 8 feet four inches at the top, and is braced with iron rods and braces. The cost of the bridge is about $200,000.

The latest snake story is told by the South Bend Tribune: "Henry Jaquith showed us this morning a greenish snake or reptile about four inches long, which was found in a hen's egg bought at Staples' grocery by his son Andrew Jaquith. The reptile had a rough, corrugated appearance and when the egg was broken open it was alive and moving in the albumen. How it got there is a mystery we will not attempt to explain."

Anstiddle, of Warren, Wis., aged twelve years was recently drilling some of his playmates as soldiers, using a piece of lath to represent a sword, and while running, his feet caught in a croquet arch, throwing him with much force upon the [illegible] and his sword, which entered the socket of the eye, passing to the depth of three inches, penetrating the substance of the brain. The stick broke off, leaving a portion about one inch in length, which the boy himself grasped and [illegible] pulling, [illegible] withdrew [illegible]. After receiving the injury he walked home, complaining but little. His only anxiety seemed to be the fear that he would lose the sight of his eye. Soon, however, he became stupid, and after lingering forty-eight hours in agony died.

THE TERRITORIES

Rev. Mr. [illegible] preached at Tacoma last Sunday.

Fires still rage in the Puget Sound forests. Some fences and a great deal of valuable timber have been burned.

Matt Zipp, of Lewiston, had a purse of $300 in gold dust stolen from his drawer a few nights ago, which he had neglected to put in his safe.

The Chinese at Tacoma have selected McCarver street as their part of the town. They have already started a wash house and an opium store.

C. W. Moore, cashier of the First National Bank of Idaho, has gone over to Silver City with the view of starting a branch banking house in that city.

The remains of Tom Malone, who died suddenly at the Warm Springs on Monday morning of last week, were taken to Placerville by the friends of the deceased for interment.

The Courier says: "The Railroad Commissioners appointed to report upon the completed portion of the North Pacific Railroad in this Territory have found everything highly satisfactory."

The Register says that the ladies of Idaho breakfast early, play croquet till ten, take a bath, walk a little, dine, and, to vary the monotony, sleep away the best part of the afternoon. They begin to lift the window blinds about five o'clock.

The water pipe factory of W. N. Horton, at Tumwater, W. T., is about sending out seven or eight thousand lineal feet of pipe for San Francisco. The brig Perpetua arrived on Saturday at Seattle, and she will take down the pipe from that place.

Gov. Campbell, of Wyoming, and Messrs. Goodwin and Hosmer, the committee appointed to investigate the recent Ute troubles at Rawlins, have now gone to the Red Cloud agency to interview the Arapahoes and take their testimony regarding the little unpleasantness in the vicinity of Rawlins.

Every town in Colorado is excited over the "narrow gauge," and voting bonds with reckless extravagance. There was considerable opposition manifested by the people of Cañon City, over granting a subsidy to a railroad, and they have gone into Court to try and prevent the city authorities from issuing the bonds.

A widow in Central Colorado, nameless in the local prints, assisted by a devil of a son, brutally whipped an eighteen-year-old daughter with a "blacksnake" recently. The brother got mad because his sister didn't like a girl on whom he was sweet, and whipped her until she was nearly dead. Nice folks over there.

The Greeley Tribune, Colorado, says that on the 4th of August the "fast-sailing, flat bottomed, clipper scow Colorado Rover, will leave her pier" in that city, and go "on a voyage of discovery down the Platte." The notice adds, "Passengers are expected to furnish their own provisions and help push the boat over [illegible]nd-bars."

A letter from Idaho City says: "Generals Milroy and Shanks and Gov. Bennett were here all day Sunday. They are 'doing' the Indians of Idaho and Washington, and have gone to Colville. Shanks and Bennett made a treaty last week with the Cœur d'Alenes, about fifty miles north of Lewiston, on Hangman's creek."

A correspondent from the neighborhood of Waitsburg, W. T., furnishes the following: "A great deal of grain is already cut, and a great deal more in process of being cut. Reapers are in great demand, owing to the large crops raised. Much of the grain stands in the field till it is shattered badly before it can be cut. Another good reaping machine could find constant employment for the next two or three weeks. Hands are also very scarce. Threshing has but fairly commenced. But the few crops threshed turned out beyond all expectations. There is also every appearance of a very large corn crop."

Hon. S. L. King, of Walla Walla county, living on the Touchet, near Mullan's bridge, has two sons aged respectively 10 and 12 years. During the last ten months these boys attended school five months, and the remaining time was devoted to work on the farm. In this period they done the plowing, harrowing and rolling on land that has yielded 3,000 bushels of grain. They also put in ten acres of rye, six acres of flax seed, and broke twelve acres of fallow land twice. They further cultivated a large garden, and done all the chores about the farm. The only assistance their father rendered them was in sowing the grain.

Quite a serious cutting affray took place a day or two since on the line of the railroad in Pierce county. A man named Lewis was instrumental in the arrest of Gus Lyttle, the murderer of John Sculla. For this he incurred the displeasure of some of Lyttle's friends, and they have taken every opportunity to abuse him since. One McCarty was particularly active in so doing, and finally Lewis ordered him to desist. With this McCarty either knocked or threw him down, when Lewis drew a knife and cut his assailant in the neck and other parts of the body several times. McCarty's friends then attempted to lynch Lewis, but a plucky section boss drew a revolver and threatened to kill the first man that touched him, so Lewis got away almost unharmed. McCarty has since been arrested.

The Olympia Courier of the 19th inst. says: "A family by the name of Barclay, consisting of man and wife and two children, have been occupying a tent near the Bath House for some days. They arrived here almost direct from Missouri with little property and only some $800 in currency. The money was in the custody of the wife, and was enclosed in an old brown cloth glove which she kept in the pocket of her dress. This morning they all started to leave the town on the stage, and on arriving at Tenino the money was missing. It is supposed that as she had occasion to use some money this morning, in trying to return it to her pocket in a hurry it was dropped or else worked out of the pocket. Every effort has been made to find it, but without success, and now Mr. Barclay offers a reward of $50 to the finder if he will return it to this office."

R. G. Reeves, of the party of boundary line surveyors, writing under date of the 8th inst. from Idaho City, says: "We have established the initial point, determined latitude and longitude of same, and started the line northward. The boys have simply to catch hold and carry it along to the 49th parallel. Rest assured we will do the work well. Our profits may prove a pittance, possibly there may be loss, but the line shall be established. We have a total of 16 men and 15 horses, and use a solar compass, transit, sextant, chronometer, artificial horizon, &c., &c. We hardly hope to return here before November 1st, and to Olympia in the fall or latter following. The weather has been exceedingly hot here. [illegible] in the shade. You should think from that, that you are west of the Cascade mountains this hot August. We have had difficulty in establishing our initial point. It is indefinite by our instructions and by practice, united, but I hope we have it now. Competent judges agree so."

Some one tells a story of a steamboat messenger watching the revolving light of a light house on the coast, and exclaiming: "Gosh! the wind blows that light out as fast as the man can strike it!"

From the Journal of Commerce August [illegible] attention yesterday of the [illegible] Schliemann [illegible] excavations [illegible] proved to [illegible] the [illegible] Troy [illegible] published at Athens in modern Greek speaks in the highest terms of Mr Schliemann [illegible] the great importance of his discoveries [illegible] Hellenic [illegible] taken up with great zeal in Greece The French School of Athens [illegible] much to stimulate the pursuits and the Greek Government and people [illegible] with little money to give [illegible] well disposed to lend a helping hand to the archaeologists [illegible] Delos [illegible] the [illegible] and the inspired hands of [illegible] supposed [illegible] statuary that have been found [illegible] where within the past few years The Clio dwells particularly upon recent discoveries in Decelia a frontier village of Attica famous in the history of the internecine wars of Greece and fortified by the Athenians at the instance of their greatest statesman as the key of Attica The King of Greece has his summer residence exactly [illegible] the ancient decus of Decelia Since the successes recently noted have become known it is popularly believed that a sort of Capt Kidd treasure underlies the soil of each historic spot in Hellenic territory and that the earth will yield up the treasures of the conqueror and the conquered as the stubborn spade shall persevere

The Clio says that above all the attention of archaeologists is directed to the many antiquities which Mr Schliemann has brought from Troy He identifies the spot where he has wrought by many close correspondences with the topographical descriptions of the Iliad and is confident that he has at last found the sombre and high towered portals of the temple wherein sat the Elders of Troy in the day of the famous duel between Paris and Menelaus

Encouraged by his success in the Troad, Mr Schliemann now asks permission of the Grecian Government to excavate at Argos and Mycenae the Capital of Agamemnon He proposes to do this at his own expense He asks that the Grecian Government allow him the privilege with the understanding that all the treasures of antiquity discovered by him in the past and in the future shall belong to him during his life and at his death they shall revert to the Greek Government He proposes further to establish a museum to exhibit all the Homeric antiquities at an expense of 200 000 francs to be paid by himself The sentiment of the people is represented to be in favor of the proposition notwithstanding that other archaeologists have deceived them upon similar undertakings The journals of Athens express the utmost public confidence in Mr Schliemann

We do not know what they think of Butler in the virtuous state of Massachusetts, but out here if we wanted to make anything appear exceedingly bad and improper we should immediately ask Benjamin to indorse and advocate it We hope he is not in favor of the Lord's prayer

Correspondence is progressing between the Secretary of State and British Minister which promises to lead to the release of the Manitoba prisoners The English authorities however appear to be greatly embarrassed by the rash conduct of their local officers and are evidently counting for the subsidence of the feeling which had been excited in the border before finally holding to their course

A widow in Central Colorado, nameless in the local prints assisted by a devil of a son, brutally whipped an eighteen year-old daughter with a blacksnake recently The brother got mad because his sister didn't like a girl on whom he was sweet, and whipped her until she was nearly dead Nice folks over there

The Greeley Tribune, Colorado says that on the 4th of August the 'fast-sailing flat bottomed, clipper scow Colorado Rover, will leave her pier in that city and go on a voyage of discovery down the Platte" The notice adds Passengers are expected to furnish their own provisions and help push the boat over sandbars

A correspondent from the neighborhood of Waitsburg, W T, furnishes the following A great deal of grain is already cut and a great deal more in process of being cut Reapers are in great demand owing to the large crops raised Much of the grain stands in the field till it is shattered badly before it can be cut. Another good reaping machine could find constant employment for the next two or three weeks Hands are also very scarce Threshing has but fairly commenced But the few crops threshed turned out beyond all expectations There is also every appearance of a very large corn crop

Quite a serious cutting affray took place a day or two since on the line of the railroad in Pierce county A man named Lewis was instrumental in the arrest of Gus Lyttle the murderer of John Smith For this he incurred the displeasure of some of Lyttle's friends and they have taken every opportunity to abuse him since One McCarty was particularly active in so doing, and finally Lewis ordered him to desist With this McCarty either knocked or threw him down when Lewis drew a knife and cut his assailant in the [illegible] and other parts of the body several times [illegible] Lewis [illegible] the first man that touched him so Lewis got away almost unharmed McCarty has since been arrested

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 21, 1873.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH WHEAT?

There are some things in the present state of the wheat market on this coast that open the way for an explanation, but who shall explain is not quite apparent Wheat was quoted in Liverpool a year ago at 11 shillings 10 pence to 12 shillings per cental. Quotations are now 9 pence per cental or 5½ pence per bushel higher than those of last year. On the same day last year $1 50 per cental was given in the dispatches as the "top of the market" in San Francisco. This was equivalent to 90 cents per bushel The San Francisco market is now telegraphed at $2 10 per cental, or $1 26 per bushel It is well known that the Liverpool market is considered the criterion by which prices in San Francisco are governed. How then are we to account for the fact that with a difference of less than six pence per bushel in favor of this year, in Liverpool, the price paid in San Francisco is 36 cents higher? Here is an advance of about 28 cents a bushel in San Francisco over and above the advance in Liverpool. If it is a % investment to buy wheat at the prices now offered, what was the margin of the purchaser last year? This is a significant question which the farmer, thankful though he is for this improvement in the state of the market for this staple article, would no doubt like to have explained by those who had the manipulating of the San Francisco market last year. It would be some satisfaction to him at least to know who got this 28 cents for every bushel of wheat shipped. Certainly he did not get it.

The difference in the rate of freight from [illegible] Francisco to Liverpool accounts for the [illegible] in market quotations, it will be [illegible]. Is this true? A great many irregu[illegible] in the commerce of the country [illegible] attributable to the management of the [illegible]tation business, but this is not one [illegible], as a comparison of the rates of [illegible] for last year with those of the [illegible] will demonstrate. Charters for [illegible] from San Francisco to Liverpool ranged from £4 to £4 10s. So [illegible] they are about the same— higher than lower, if any odds. [illegible] also be considered, that in the [illegible] part of last year before the crop began to come in, a large number of charters [illegible] fixed for use after the harvest, at [illegible] more than half the above figures. No such element enters into the [illegible] for this year, for charters have [illegible] held up in anticipation of the [illegible] the tonnage that must follow [illegible] as an explanation [illegible] several large ships are now in [illegible] awaiting cargoes, and that [illegible] reduction in freights. [illegible] tioned, and surely [illegible] if it had taken place. Be[illegible] how many ships would it require to [illegible] the transactions of a [illegible] in the San Francisco market [illegible] several. Not less than one [illegible] will be required to carry [illegible] of the Wallamet valley [illegible]. How many will be required at [illegible] to move the almost incalcu[illegible] that will find its outlet [illegible]?

[illegible] marked at the outset, the ex[illegible] of the present state of the mar[illegible] vastly apparent. But the ad[illegible] to the farmers this year is im[illegible]. Our farmers reap the benefits of [illegible] advance of prices the same as those [illegible]. With this addition to the [illegible] of last year, and the reduction of [illegible] per cent on the rates of trans[illegible] from the interior of our own [illegible] to the sea board, owing to the com[illegible] on the Wallamet river, and with [illegible] whose abundance is unprece[illegible] in the history of the State, the [illegible] before the Oregon farmer, for [illegible] fall, is certainly a cheering one. All [illegible] of business, likewise, have [illegible] to feel encouraged, since every [illegible] of business prospers when the ag[illegible] thrives.

THE FARMERS' MOVEMENT AND THE POLITICAL CONVENTIONS.

The beneficial results of the activity of [illegible] in asserting and maintaining their right to be protected against every [illegible] of oppression that may be attempted by combinations in the carrying busi[illegible] are clearly seen in the action of the political conventions recently held in [illegible] States. The utterances of these [illegible]tative bodies are entirely different from what they have been hitherto. If their nominations are as greatly improved as the tone of their platforms, the country has a right to expect considerable improvement in the management of public affairs during the terms of office just commencing. Either the farmers have captured the conventions and are running them upon the basis of those principles of honesty and fair dealing which always prevail in an agricultural community, or else the politicians have got a most wholesome scare and are playing honest as the only means of escaping the wrath to come. We sincerely trust the former of these hypotheses is the correct one; but even the latter would imply some improvement on the old style of political management. The preachers frequently tell us that the best way in the world to become attached to virtuous lives is to practice virtue, and upon this theory, it may be that a period of compulsory right-doing will tend to improve the principles of the men who formerly were engaged in the business of forming rings and combinations for selfish purposes. We can not but hope events will prove that the wave of zeal for reform, which has evidently reached Oregon, is as irresistible here as it is shown to be east of the Rocky Mountains.

If Gen Kemper the Conservative candidate for Governor of Virginia, shall be able to live up to the fine promise he gives he would not make a bad executive. He has written a letter to Jubal Early, in which he says of himself: "If elected I shall be every inch a Governor, and shall, so far as I know how, dispense impartial, scrupulous and fearless justice to all interests and men. It is very gratifying to me [illegible] while all [illegible] of representative men and [illegible] have [illegible]ted with me, not [illegible] has [illegible], not one of them sought, and all of them have disclaimed seeking any pledges whatever at my hands. In no event will I be the property of any friend, or set of friends, and in no event will I harbor one atom of resentment against any square opposer of mine."

The N Y Tribune says of the Long Branch ball for the benefit of Portland sufferers "Sojourners at Long Branch are promptly moving with a plan to relieve the sufferers by the fire at Portland, Oregon Naturally enough, everything at the great seaside resort takes on a festive garb, and the great ball which is to be given at the Ocean House, next Saturday night will be as handsome as Mr Leland can make it, as gay as Long Branch can possibly enjoy and we hope as profitable as the pressing needs of the case may require. To enhance the assured success of the festivity, the names of many people prominent in society and politics are on the list of managers, and the occasion is sure to be a notable and brilliant one, and worthy of the pressing demand from the far-off Pacific "

The constitutionality of the Illinois Pro Rata Freight Law will soon be tested in the Supreme Court of the United States. There is a probability that some of the railway companies who are dissatisfied with it will take it there. They will hold that the law is an encroachment on the constitutional authority of Congress to "regulate commerce among the several States." It is said that a recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the Reading Railroad vs. Pennsylvania sustains this view of the case, and interprets the authority of Congress as extending to the regulation of all freight taken up within a State and carried out of it, or taken up out of it and brought within it, in other words, all freight carried across State boundaries

The San Francisco Bulletin relates this incident in its warfare: "The other day when an Independent Republican made a leading speech in a convention, a Federal office-holder hissed through his grinding teeth: 'We will hunt you.' Has the hunt already begun? Whoever defies the power of the railroad combination is to be hunted, but always with this contingency, that the hounds may turn back having found larger game than they know how to manage. It is just now an edifying spectacle—this hunting down of Republicans and Independents. But oddly enough the majority seem to be running with the game instead of the hounds."

A Long Branch dispatch of August 16th says that the ball for the benefit of the Portland (Oregon) sufferers took place on the evening of that day. No particulars of the affair have been received.

COULDN'T SYMPATHIZE.—A lady with short hair and a face like a nutmeg grater stepped up to me on the forward deck of the boat and said:

"S-i-r, what in the name of G-ee-ho-vah do you think of our move-e-ment?"

"I think, madam," said I, "that it passes the founding of a joke."

"A joke! a joke, sir!" said she, with a horrible twist of her mouth.

"Have you no soul ze em-pathee? have you no inner consciousness? Does not the divine basis of your groveling nature soar to a higher and more sidereal sphere—to a loftier existence? Will you not gather at the river with us and join the heavenly band, where all shall be joy and bliss and a serenity of unfleshly exuberance?"

"No, ma'am," I said, "I haven't got the time."

Think of being shut up with these people on a narrow boat for an hour and a half—two hundred of them!

Another lady, with short hair and dressed in a man's Sandusky linen duster and a man's yellow linen pants and a man's tie, struck me on the arm with her fan, the only article of woman's apparel about her, and said to me in a whisper:

"Brother, do you not think that we shall soon arrive at a state of per-fection? Is not this day a glorious har-binger of our future s-t-a-t-e?"

I was compelled to answer that I did not know and that I did not care a cent if it was so.—Corr. N. Y. Herald.

MANSARDS DOOMED IN BOSTON.—The Boston Fire Underwriters' Union has determined to follow the course lately taken by the board in this city. At its meeting, Friday, it was decided that after the 1st of January next, the rate of insurance on wooden Mansard roofs should be raised from fifty cents on $100 to $1 on the same amount. This, of course, includes not only the building, but the insurance on all the merchandise contained in it; and it will thus be seen that it will be difficult for the owner of such a warehouse to let it to any merchants for ordinary business purposes. The addition of an expense of one per cent. on all the goods coming into a store would often take away any profit that might otherwise come from the sale of the same.

CITY.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—We have been furnished the following particulars concerning an accident [illegible] near Astoria by a gentleman [illegible] On Tuesday morning at an early hour a little son of a Mr Patterson, who lives about three miles and a half from the Seaside House, started out to hunt birds. This Nimrod was aged about 14 years. It was quite early in the morning, and young Patterson had not wandered very far before he [illegible] the fallen trunk of a large tree to wipe the dew which had collected on the barrel of the [illegible]. He drew out a handkerchief and [illegible] and proceeded to wipe away the moisture from the piece. While so engaged the breech of the gun slipped off the log. In its descent the hammer caught on a piece of projecting bark and the weapon was caused to discharge. Young Patterson was leaning forward as the gun slipped. Before he had time to make an effort to escape or even think the fatal shot was fired. The ball took effect in the right side. It grazed the inside of the lower rib, ranged upwards, passed through the lobe of the right lung and lodged against the side of the shoulder blade. Although dangerously wounded the little fellow bore his pain like a soldier, not suffering a groan or expression of pain to escape his lips. He soon recovered himself and started homeward. A younger brother it seems had accompanied him who came bravely to the assistance of the wounded boy immediately after the accident. This younger brother, who is about nine years of age, carried the gun and did all in his power to encourage the wounded boy to bear up bravely. About one mile was passed when the boy, yielding to the pain, fright and exhaustion occasioned by internal hemorrhage, sank down to the earth and could proceed no further. Encouraging the elder brother to keep up his spirits and courage, the younger of the twain ran as hastily as his quick legs could carry him to the nearest house, which was over two miles distant, and conveyed the sad news. The intelligence first reached the Seaside House and soon a party was formed who repaired to the spot indicated and brought the wounded boy in. Dr Jones of the U S Army and Dr J C Hawthorne were summoned to attend the sufferer. Our informant left a few hours after the sad occurrence. He learned from the physicians that the wound was of a very dangerous character with but slender chances of ultimate recovery. There is a possibility of recovery but all the chances are against it. The affair cast a shade of sadness over all the guests at the hotel as the little fellow was a bright intelligent boy and generally liked. He was regarded as one of the best shots for his age, of any person in that section of the country. So unerring was his aim and so successful was his efforts, that he had the contract of supplying the tables at the hotel with feathered game. His parents, who formerly resided in this city are deeply afflicted at the sorrowful event.

BRIDAL PARTY.—By the steamer Rescue which arrived last evening there came a large and select bridal party from Olympia. The parties directly involved in the hymenial contract, were the Hon S C Wingard United States District Attorney for Washington Territory, and Miss C M Churchill. Both parties reside in Olympia. Early yesterday morning the marriage ceremony took place in Olympia in the presence of a select number of friends of the bride and groom. Rev T L Eliot, of this city, officiated on the important, happy occasion. Soon after the ceremonies were concluded, and immediately after the happy groom and the blushing bride had received hearty congratulations from numerous friends, the newly wedded couple, accompanied by about thirty ladies and gentlemen, started for Portland. From Olympia to Tenino, the bridal party came by private conveyance. At Tenino a special train was ordered and the party was rushed through to Kalama. There they took the steamer Rescue and arrived safely at this city and in the best of spirits. Most of the party slept on board the Oneonta last night. This morning they accompanied that steamer to the Cascades. They will return this evening to Portland, and to-morrow morning Mr Wingard and his bride will start for their home in Olympia, where the honeymoon will be passed and the wedded settle quietly down to the realities of life.

A GRAND HOP.—From the Long Branch News of August 6th, we extract the following which may be of interest to our readers. Under the heading of "Grand Hop at the Ocean" it says: "Next Saturday evening August 9th, a Grand Reception Promenade Concert and Ball is to be given at the Ocean Hotel in aid of the Portland Oregon sufferers. The Committee of Arrangements consists of the leading men in the country, including Governors Parker and Dix, the United States Senators from this State and New York, the Mayors of New York and Philadelphia, the leading journalists of these two cities, and prominent officers of the Army and Navy, together with all the prominent citizens who summer at the Branch. It is understood that President Grant will also lend his influence to this grand affair and be present at the reception. Already extensive preparations have been commenced and are being rapidly hurried forward. The large dining-hall of the Ocean is to be thrown open for the occasion, so as to accommodate the very large company which it is expected will attend. The well known energy of those having the arrangements in hand and the laudable purpose for which the Ball is to be given will certainly make it the grandest affair of the kind ever seen at Long Branch or any other watering-place."

LEADERS CONVENTION.—On the first of the present month Mr A E Miller leader of the Portland Turn Verein Society, left the city to attend the Convention of the Leaders of Turn Verein Societies which assembled at Stockton on the 9th inst. It was proposed by the Convention that the societies in the district of the Pacific coast adopt the "Rabenstein Manual of Gymnastic Exercises." A Convention is to be held in about two months in San Francisco probably, of delegates from each society in the Pacific coast district will take this matter as well as others into consideration. During the stay of the Representatives in Stockton an exhibition was held in a large tent adjacent to the city in which the leaders, some thirty in number participated. Mr Miller received many laudatory encomiums from those who witnessed his performances. While others [illegible] he [illegible] Mr Miller performed [illegible] finished manner.

A ball was given [illegible] evening of the 11th at which the Stockton Turn Verein Society appeared, and with the assistance of several ladies, sang many songs. Mr Miller reports the treatment received as being excellent—particularly to himself. He is a ladies man and it is not surprising to hear that he was treated well by the fair sex.

REBUILDING.—W[illegible] through the burnt district yesterday [illegible] carpenters still busily engaged in putting up and finishing new buildings. On the east side of Front street are three buildings all small [illegible] completed. East of First street are twenty four frames the most of which have been completed. Among these are seven two story buildings and several are quite large, such as E Smith's wagon and carriage shop, H [illegible] furniture, brewery, the [illegible] Keller's, Skidmore's, Smith Bros' foundry and Ackerstall's. On the last block that was destroyed are six buildings already up, all of which will be occupied inside of a week. McGill & Hill have commenced the erection of a substantial structure on the corner of Madison and First street for their bakery, which stood previous to the fire on the same spot. The gulch at the corner of First and Jefferson streets is being filled up to make room for a new building. [illegible] E Smith's, Keller's and the [illegible] Works buildings are much larger than the old ones occupied by the same parties before the fire. First street will be widened several feet, those building having erected their houses further back on their respective lots. It is worth any person's time to take a look at the building operations in the burnt district.

FITTING UP.—Mr B L Stone has removed his stock to his new and elegant store in Carter's building on Front street south of Alder and is now placing things in order. The preparations for opening will be completed on Friday and in Saturday's issue of the OREGONIAN more will be said of Stone's new jewelry store.

OFFICE SOLD.—The office of the Herald, including type, press, etc, etc, was sold at assignee sale yesterday afternoon by A B Richardson. Mr H. L. Pittock was the purchaser. The price paid was $1,160.

DANGEROUS DEVOTION.—Last evening, a short time before the meeting of the Common Council, a rather serio-ludicrous incident occurred. While the Mayor, a number of the Councilmen and the reporters were quietly seated engaged in conversation, suddenly a bright light flashed up. The light emanated from the rear portion of the building, directly from the low and filthy rookeries occupied by Chinamen. Thoughts of fire flashed through [illegible] and a general rush was made for the door and back stoop. To the surprise of the spectators three or four Chinamen were discovered squatted around a fire built in the [illegible] back porch, apparently engaged in [illegible] some solemn religious ceremony. Although the fire was burning [illegible] still in view [illegible] a heap of fire shavings lay in close proximity it was a dangerous sort of religious spirit. Officer Brannan, the Mayor and several others [illegible] shouted to the Chinamen to extinguish the fire. But they were wholly oblivious to surrounding [illegible] warnings. Water was next thrown at the group but it did not reach them and failed to arrest their attention. At length a slender piece of scantling was procured which was thrown over the heads of the pious worshippers. It fell with a crash, and in the midst scattering the fire and the crowd in an instant. Some of the lighted brands were hurled among the shavings and a conflagration would have been imminent had not Officer Brannan rushed over and with a bucket of water extinguished every vestige of fire. Religion and matters of conscience ought not to be interfered with under ordinary circumstances, but it must appear to the average reader that such devotion as the above is decidedly risky.

STEAMER ALICE.—Work on the steamer Alice, which was partially destroyed by fire in the Basin last spring is progressing rapidly. The hull which sustained but slight damage has been drawn out on the ways, repaired, recaulked and re-painted. The cabin will soon be finished. The machinery, boiler etc have passed safely through the fiery ordeal and have come out in an undamaged condition. The wheel was almost totally destroyed, and a new one will be built. A few steamers ago the iron shaft for the wheel was brought up from San Francisco, and forwarded to Oregon City. Upon examination it was pronounced to be faulty, and condemned by the contractor. Yesterday the shaft was brought down and will be shipped back on the steamer to San Francisco and another sent up. This will prevent workmen from beginning on the wheel for a few weeks, and delay the work generally. But at present there is no pressing need for the boat. She is being re-built to answer the requirement of the increased fall and winter trade.

WILL BE LAUNCHED.—To-day at 4 o'clock P M the new steamer which is being built above the upper sawmill for the W R T Co will be launched from the ways. As it is a spectacle not witnessed every day and a free exhibition in the bargain a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen will no doubt be present. Every person is invited to attend and see this handsome little craft slide from the ways and take the water "like a thing of life," which we read about so frequently. Arrangements will all be completed and at 4 o'clock the ropes which hold the hull in its place, will be severed. As yet the President Mr Goldsmith, has not determined what name the new boat shall bear, but that question will be settled to-day when the bottle of champagne is broken over the prow.

FROM THE ISLANDS.—The schooner Margaret Crockard which arrived here on Tuesday night in tow of the Mary Bell, had a long and tedious passage from Honolulu. She was thirty days in making the voyage from the Sandwich Islands to the bar. For twelve days the vessel was becalmed and lay in the sea like a log with not enough wind stirring to fill the sails. Moderately fair winds and propitious weather was experienced for the remainder of the distance. From the time the schooner sighted land until she reached the wharf at this port five days elapsed, making the whole time thirty five days from port to port. The Crockard brought a full freight of sugar, and a small quantity of tropical fruit. She will commence to discharge to-day.

TO REBUILD.—Owners of brick buildings which were partially destroyed by fire on the 2d, are in most instances, making preparations to rebuild at once. The contract for the rebuilding of the bricks owned by Mr L H Wakefield and Walter Moffett has already been let and work is soon to commence. Specifications are being prepared by Messrs Burton & Williams architects, for the repair of the partially demolished buildings owned by Drs W Weatherford and J G Glenn. All these structures are soon to [illegible] phœnix."

ASSUMED COMMAND.—Capt Forbes of the bark Jane A Falkinburg, has resigned the position as master of that vessel and assumed the command of the bark Clara Louise which vessel has recently been purchased by Messrs Corbitt & Macleay of this city. She is lying at McCraken's wharf, but will soon ship for Japan. At present the Clara Louise is sailing under the Liberian flag. The vessel will sail via Honolulu where she will be placed under the Royal Hawaiian flag and ship a Kanaka crew.

BISHOP PECK.—The Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for Oregon and Washington Territory will convene at Olympia on the 3d of September. Bishop Peck, who is now in San Francisco, will preside at the deliberations of this religious body. This reverend gentleman will probably take passage on the next steamer for Portland. With a very reasonable degree of certainty it can be announced that Bishop Peck will occupy the pulpit at the Taylor street M E Church on one week from next Sunday.

CONSECRATIONS.—St Andrew's Chapel Kalama will be consecrated by Bishop Morris assisted by the Rev J R W Sellwood and the Rev John Rosenberg on Sunday August 24th—St Bartholomew's Day. Trinity Church Portland will be consecrated on Sunday August 31st.

TURN VEREIN FESTIVAL AND BALL.—On the 27th inst the Turn Verein Society will hold their grand ball and festival in aid of the sufferers. Preparations are being made for the affair. We have no doubt it will be an exceedingly pleasant occasion.

CONTINUED.—The preliminary examination [illegible] embezzlement [illegible] Ryan's court. The prosecution [illegible] to proceed with the examination and the case was continued until to-day.

WILL CONVENE.—The U S Circuit and District Courts which have adjourned twice in consequence of the absence of his Honor Judge McF Deady will [illegible] to-day.

COURT ADJOURNED.—The Circuit Court for Clatsop county adjourned [illegible] days ago and Judge Upton will return home in a few days.

The stock consists of several grades and is so large that the firm is enabled to sell at extremely low figures. The opportunity to purchase sugars of the very best quality at the lowest market rates is offered to city and country merchants, whose attention is called to the advertisement which appears on the second page. Consult it and send your orders to Corbitt & Macleay.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We are now getting on the way a new and fresh stock of fine furniture which will be superior in quality and newer in design than the one destroyed by the fire and which we will offer for sale on advantageous terms. Meanwhile, we are well prepared to supply the present demand from our temporary location, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, near the U S Custom House. Respectfully

HURGREN & SHINDLER

An Albany girl who thought her young man's attentions meant something more than mere friendship was so "cut up," poor thing when he backed out at the last pape stage, recently, that she made a substantial meal on pure arsenic. But her very eagerness to die thwarted her purpose, for after a season of deathly sickness she recovered, and the young man who is only eighteen has returned to his first love, and vows ever to be true, etc.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of L KOHN & Co, 91 Front Street sell Clothing and Gents Furnishing Goods so cheap? They keep the best, they sell the cheapest, and what more can be asked?

For Throat Diseases and Affections of the Chest Brown's Bronchial Troches are of value. For Coughs, Irritation of the Throat caused by cold or Unusual Exertion of the vocal organs in speaking in public or singing they produce beneficial results.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr J S Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U S Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872 where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the proper results and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful yet harmless, febrifuge and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of these diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

Beware of imitations and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere and by HODGE, CALEF & CO, Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

AN AMERICAN ABROAD

HOWARD PAUL DESCRIBES ONE WHOM HE MET AT BADEN

[From the American Register.]

Recently at Baden Baden I met an American female (I cannot call her a lady) who out Malaproped the most Partington of Mrs Browns. She was from "Out West" and lived at Milwaukee when she was at home. She had been left a widow, her husband having been a farmer, and was now on her first tour on the continent. She was literally a phenomenon of ignorance and misconception, and if ever the saying that "a little learning is a dangerous thing" received exemplification it did in this case. She sat next to me at the table d'hote at the hotel, and after the fashion of neighbors at continental dinners we fell into conversation. Her appearance had attracted my attention. She was a large, yellow faced woman, with hair the color of mahogany, and the front of her ample [illegible] was literally dotted all over with bold shining Palais Royal looking jewelry. It seemed to start from her chin and extend in a glittering unbroken line down to her very toes. One of the waiters spoke of her to his brother kellner as the "old pig in armor." At dinner she turned to me and said:

"You'll excuse me, but how do you have your letters addressed?"

"Oh, simply to the Hotel Royal" (where I was staying).

"That's a good idea," returned she. "I didn't know the name of the hotels here, so a neighbor of mine who had once been in Europe told me it would be a good plan to have all of all sent to the 'Post Restaurant,' and I can't find no such restaurant in the town. I [illegible] a carriage yesterday and looked for it everywhere."

It was simply a duty to instruct her that she should apply to the poste restante.

"If you do not speak French," I asked, "how do you make yourself understood when you're sight-seeing?"

"Lord bless you, no French for me. I understand none of these furrin' tongues, not I. [illegible] is as much as I can manage. I hire a [illegible] wherever I go—ever since I left [illegible], at [illegible]. Now, London is a sensible [illegible] to visit, if it's only for that reason, they [illegible] English there, and that's a comfort, [illegible] foggy."

I found the old dame had just returned from [illegible], and it was astounding to hear her mix [illegible] and things and people. It required [illegible] gentle encouragement to loosen her [illegible].

"[illegible] you like Milan?" I inquired.

"[illegible]."

"And the pictures, the art treasures of sunny Italy, are they not delightful?" I asked, with [illegible] of enthusiasm.

"[illegible] splendid," said she, "where they're [illegible] too old. They showed me a lot of broken things in Rome that I couldn't make [illegible] of—a body here, a leg there, an [illegible] else; it looked to me mere [illegible] that did; but the picters were very [illegible]. I liked Raphael's marriage with the Vir[illegible]. I didn't think much of the 'Last Supper' as they showed me at Milan. How they [illegible] all that a [illegible] I can't think, for [illegible] public [illegible] signs in Ameriky that [illegible] richer coloring into them than that [illegible] of the [illegible] only had one leg, and I [illegible] that ain't no good drawin', not that I [illegible] of paintin', dear knows."

"[illegible] you stop at Florence?" I asked.

"[illegible], and went to the Pity Palace and [illegible] there, too."

"[illegible] Venus, by Titian? There's a [illegible]."

"[illegible], and she ought to be [illegible]."

"[illegible] who, Venus? Why, [illegible] have her [illegible] or draped. You'd ruin the classic beauty, [illegible] Art."

"[illegible] I say again she ought to [illegible] don't mean Venus, [illegible] the regular thing for her to be [illegible] but Titians ought to remember [illegible] and [illegible] upon as such in London [illegible] her sing."

"[illegible] who?" I asked, in amazement.

"[illegible] and how she can waste her [illegible] one of her own sex laying off on [illegible] can't think. Titiens' Venus [illegible], but for my part I prefer [illegible]."

[illegible] that the coincidence of sound [illegible] of the two names [illegible] this astonishing old creature [illegible] the table and gave her a [illegible] of that old [illegible] locality known as [illegible] wrote to her son not [illegible] habit of visiting [illegible] as sich wicked [illegible] of the value of death," [illegible] a state of ideas [illegible] when she returned from [illegible] on always talking of [illegible] of Mount Vociferous."

[illegible] "SIR ROGER"

[illegible], THE TICHBORNE CLAIMANT [illegible]

(July 30) Cor. New York World.

[illegible] his opening speech for [illegible] the Tichborne case yesterday, [illegible] long, before he gave [illegible] rumor which has been [illegible] the effect that he [illegible] state of mind, and cared for [illegible] to cover his own retreat from the [illegible] best he might. A more extraordinary [illegible] one I never heard nor read [illegible] in any court in[illegible] as I have been," said he, "and I believe [illegible] of the want of instruction [illegible] be able to do this man justice" [illegible], no doubt, that the solic[illegible] him no brief, and that he has [illegible] on the old one of Baxter Rose [illegible]. Under the circumstances, Dr [illegible] might have thrown up the sponge. But he determined to show fight [illegible] did he show it. The charac[illegible] has [illegible] so clearly proved [illegible] Dr. Kenealy is resolved to show that [illegible] Tichborne—the well-educated, well-[illegible], and delicate youth—was [illegible] a blackguard as the defendant, and [illegible] every one of the 200 witnesses who have [illegible] him to be an impostor is either a [illegible] or a fool. Having taken this resolution [illegible] did not mince matters, but poured [illegible] of violent denunciation which [illegible] on him one sharp rebuke from the [illegible], and was at times received with ironical [illegible] by the jury. The forty or fifty witnesses in the case were denounced with special violence. The whole Tichborne family [illegible], were fools, and had been so for [illegible], owing the destruction of their minds to the fact that being Catholics they were excluded from public life and left to those [illegible] which destroy the mind. "It is as Pope wrote, said this wonderful lawyer, "that Catholics were either fools, knaves or cowards." There was a plot against the de[illegible], "like that of the Jesuit Rodin who [illegible] to defraud a family of a million of [illegible]," "these Seymours and Tichbornes had defiled the grave of the defendant's [illegible]," his early life had been so wretched that "he looked back upon it with horror, disgust, and despair," and so became an outcast and a ruffian in Australia to forget it. He was [illegible], because at Stonyhurst he got no [illegible] training"—(dozens of witnesses have [illegible] that when Roger left Stonyhurst he was remarkably well educated youth, particularly well trained in logic and theology)—"the Jesuits don't want mental training, they want to make the rising generation a generation of [illegible]," they are like all the Catholics, however, and see "what a cesspool of corruption and ignorance the Catholics have made of France." Roger was so corrupted and de[illegible] at Stonyhurst that he went and seduced his own cousin. He left Stonyhurst a miserable example of ignorance, without any moral restraint and with hardly any respect for the truth"—(this same young man who was beloved and respected by every one who knew him, and whose letters at this period display not only the highest moral and religious feeling but excellent sense and culture) he went into the army which also, for Dr Kenealy's purpose, is rather worse than Stonyhurst and there too he learned nothing but evil (although one witness has stated that he was converted from infidelity to Catholicism by his conversations on religion with Tichborne) he scorned his family and hated his mother, he had no love for any one but himself"—this young man whose last act in England was one of pure love and self abnegation. Gosford (the solicitor who had charge of the sealed packet) is a thief and has acted with "ineffable baseness," when he came back to England all the family said "This is the bait, let us kill him and seize on his [illegible]" "the [illegible] but [illegible] influence of the Jesuits was all employed against him, the crown had been craftily induced by the Jesuits to prosecute him at an expense thus far of £160,000; the clergymen who have testified against him are those infamous priests—that wicked old priest and liars."

Such was Dr Kenealy's opening speech or at least as much of it as he got out yesterday. Its very violence shows how desperate is his case, and its incoherence and contradictions betray its weakness. On the subject of the alleged [illegible] at [illegible] Doughty Dr Kenealy [illegible] at [illegible] that [illegible] will not produce a single witness to [illegible] even the probability of the [illegible]. This of itself is sufficient, one would think, but as Dr Kenealy declares that he [illegible] to call 200 witnesses it is evident that he [illegible] to the end [illegible] only hopes that some [illegible] to [illegible] on the jury will be so frightened by what has been said about the Jesuits that he will prevent a conviction.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Financial

WEDNESDAY EVENING, August 20 1873.

Gold in New York to-day 115.

Portland Legal Tender rates 87½ buying, 86½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 900 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California 12s 11d@12s 7d. Club 12s 8d@13s 4d.

All our exchanges note an easy condition of finances at the money centers in the Atlantic seaboard and in the Mississippi valley. At some of these points this amounts almost to what is termed a plethora. The demand for funds to move the grain crop is less extensive than was expected, and capitalists are seeking investments for large sums at a rate which would seem very low to a business man on this coast and especially of Oregon. In San Francisco money is plenty and discounts are reported weaker, while in our own market though there seems to be no general complaint of a scarcity of funds accommodations are not so readily obtainable except at high rates on prime paper. We regret that the supply here is not more ample, as the call from the interior to move this year's crop will doubtless be large and under the circumstances may induce a very close market during the fall to come.

Miscellaneous.

The new goods of the Oregon City woolen mills lately rebuilt and supplied with all the best and most improved machinery, are now in the market and find ready sale. These home manufactories are the main dependencies for our prosperity as a State.

A large invoice of sugars, syrups, etc imported from the Sandwich Islands per schooner Margaret Crockard, are now offered for sale by Messrs Corbitt & Macleay.

A gentleman now in this State who has had considerable experience in the Wheat business, and still has an interest in it, and has just returned from a visit to New York and San Francisco, says that the average of crops in many of the Eastern States is much less than last year, while he is confident that California will produce but little over half as much for export. Thus their adversity will prove our golden opportunity.

From the number of vessels already at San Francisco not under charter, as well as those on the way thither, it would seem that no lack of tonnage will be realized there this year, and the short run between that port and this considered, might lead to the belief and hope that our market will also be better supplied than has been heretofore anticipated.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—By our dispatches published this morning it would appear that California farmers and holders of wheat are taking advantage of the excited state of the S F market, and are disposing of large lots. While we might be justified in expressing our belief that they are doing the thing that is best for themselves, we deem that laying the facts before our readers and leaving them to form their own opinions as to the expediency of selling at current rates more consistent with our duty. Hence we have no warning voice to lift against the conduct of those who when wheat is $1 40, hold for $1 50, and when it is $1 50 hold for something higher. To-day our market appears but little changed from its condition last noted. Some exporters are anxious buyers but say they will give only $1 60 ₩ cental while holders claim that the cereal ought to be quoted at $1 70. There is but little prospect of an understanding between these two [illegible], and until one or the other makes a [illegible] transactions will be limited.

FLOUR—In consequence of the condition of the wheat market above noted flour has been advanced 50 cents per barrel in this city, on best brands.

OATS—Our market is not very abundantly supplied, though some early lots of the new crop are occasionally offering. The buyers are cautious about making orders for future delivery, though paying 40@43 cents for present receipts. The crop of the State is doubtless the largest ever raised in Oregon.

BARLEY—Our market is very quiet, there being no demand for shipping purposes. The call for home consumption is limited and quotations are furnished at $1 40@1 45 per cwt.

FEED—Prices seem but little inclined to change as yet, and it is thought that the high price of wheat will not affect the market, as it would certainly later in the season. Quotations to-day are for bran $17 50@$19 per ton, shorts, $22 50, chopped middlings, etc, $22@24, jobbing prices.

HAY—The supply is not large for the season, but the temporary scarcity is accounted for by the fact that farmers are too busy to put their crops in market at present. The supply in the country is very large.

POTATOES—The market is fully supplied with choice lots at 37½@40 cents per bushel. The yield this season is unusually large.

ONIONS—Some of the new crop has been contracted at 2½@3 cents per pound. At present the supply is limited and the demand dull.

APPLES—The new crop of early varieties is becoming quite plentiful in the market and quotable for good to choice at 12½@65 cents per box.

BUTTER—There is considerable inquiry for choice quality while common lots are in full supply. The best for table use commands 25@28 cents per pound but the bulk of receipts is well sold at 18@20 cents.

CHEESE—The supply of Oregon made is freely taken at 15@17 cents ₩ lb.

EGGS—A scarcity is still noted as prevailing and the demand for fresh receipts is brisk at 30 cents ₩ dozen.

BACON—The state of trade at this season is usually dull and our market presents no exception to the rule. However all offering is readily taken at current rates. We give quotations for common lots, sugar cured and other established brands being higher, sides 10@11, hams 14@15, shoulders 8@9 cents ₩ lb.

LARD—Oregon leaf in tins 12@13 cents ₩ lb in kegs 11 cents. The supply is not above average and good lots find ready sale.

CHICKENS—The supply in market is very much limited and prices have ruled high for several days. Grown hens and roosters are quotable at $4 50@5 ₩ dozen, the latter for best lots only. Spring chickens scarce also, at $3@3 50.

BEEVES—Continued arrivals both from the valley and Eastern Oregon are noticed. We quote good beef cattle on foot 3½@4 cents ₩ lb.
